Financial Support for Civil Society Advocacy during World AMR Awareness Week (WAAW) 2023

The South Centre invites applications from the members of the Antibiotic Resistance Coalition (ARC), other civil society organizations and research institutions from developing countries for limited financial funding (maximum 2000 USD) to design and launch or extend advocacy campaigns engaging communities to address AMR.

The scope of the campaigns can be human health, the human-animal interface, use of antimicrobials in food production systems, and the role of the environment in the transmission and spread of AMR.

The campaigns should take place around the World AMR Awareness Week 2023. The WAAW 2023 Theme is ‘Preventing Antimicrobial Resistance Together’, to be celebrated from 18 to 24 November 2023.

To apply for funding, please complete the application form attached and send it to Ms. Caroline Ngome Eneme at ngomeeneme@southcentre.int by 6 October 2023. In case you need more space to provide information on your project, please attach it in a separate document. Any questions about this call can also be sent to this email address.

The selection result will be informed by 20 October 2023.
